

Targeted treatment in viral associated inflammatory cardiomyopathy

Ahmad Amin¹, Sepideh Taghavi¹, Maryam Chenaghlou², Elahe Zare³, Monireh Kamali⁴, and Nasim Naderi⁴

¹Rajaie Cardiovascular Medical and Research Center

²Tabriz University of Medical Sciences

³Yazd Cardiovascular Research Center, Shahid Sadoughi University of Medical Sciences, Yazd, Iran

⁴Iran University of Medical Sciences

April 10, 2021

Abstract

Though generally self-limited, viral myocarditis can lead to acute cardiac failure or chronic dilated cardiomyopathy. We describe three cases of human herpes virus 6 (HHV6) associated -myocarditis unresponsive to conventional therapies, with detection of HHV-6 evidences and initiation of antiviral treatment, we observed significant improvement in clinical status of patients.

Hosted file

Targeted treatment in HHV 1.pdf available at <https://authorea.com/users/407083/articles/517491-targeted-treatment-in-viral-associated-inflammatory-cardiomyopathy>