Convergence of approximate solutions for singular difference systems with maxima

Xiang Liu¹, Christopher GOODRICH², and Peiguang Wang³

¹Hebei Normal University

²UNSW

³Hebei University

September 24, 2021

Abstract

In this paper, by introducing a new singular fractional difference comparison theorem, the existence of maximal and minimal quasi-solutions are proved for the singular fractional difference system with maxima combined with the method of upper and lower solutions and the monotone iterative technique. Finally, we give an example to show the validity of the established results.

Hosted file

Monotone iterative_August_6.pdf available at <https://authorea.com/users/342072/articles/538461-convergence-of-approximate-solutions-for-singular-difference-systems-with-maxima>