Abstract

This Authorea document template can be used to prepare documents according to a desired citation style and authoring guidelines. Abstracts are not always required, but most academic papers have one and writers should know how to produce a useful abstract. An abstract should be a very short, clear and concise summation of the entire paper. An abstract should provide enough of a preview that a typical reader will know whether or not they wish to read the paper. It should reveal both the purpose and conclusions of the paper.

Title Page

The title page must contain the following information:

Title of the article: Population Health Analysis using a FHIR-enabled Visual Analytic Platform

Corresponding author: (full name

Full name, department, institution, city and country of all co-authors: Rahul C. Basole, Mark L Braunstein, Dhruv C Muttaraju, Hyunwoo Park, Myung Choi, Richard Starr

Keywords: Population Health Analysis, Fast Healthcare Interoperability Resources (FHIR), Visual Analytics

Word count: excluding title page, abstract, references, figures and tables.

Abstract (or a summary for case reports) (Note: references should not be included in abstracts or summaries).
