

Figure 3: Microscopically, the tumor demonstrates solid and trabecular growth pattern with round nucleus, prominent nucleoli and abundant cytoplasm, which are typical for hepatocellular carcinoma (Hematoxylin and Eosin stain, 200 magnification). Mitotic figures are easy to see (arrow). Insert shows tumor cells are positive for Arginase on immunostain.