

Figure 7. Interannual variability in model performance at each depth as a function of mean annual air temperature and precipitation. Points represent individual water years, and contours represent GAMMs fitted to the data for the respective parameter sets. Plots include the climate space encompassed by all water years, but GAMMs were fit on only the calibration data.