

Figure 1- X-ray imaging of the patient with suspected Hirschsprung's disease (A: Broad-based air-fluid levels in the abdominal radiography of a patient with abdominal distension, B: Anterior/posterior barium enema graphy, C: Lateral barium enema graphy, D: Control X-ray radiography after 24 hours from barium enema application)